127 SEATTLE-AREA PROS, AS RECOMMENDED BY THEIR PEERS,
WHO WILL STRAIGHTEN YOUR TEETH, FIX THOSE TROUBLE SPOTS AND GIVE YOU PLENTY OF REASONS TO SMILE

Who wants to smile if their teeth are hurting? Maybe you haven't taken care of your nagging dental problem because your longtime dentist just retired and you haven't found a new one—or maybe you've decided to finally find out what all the teeth-whitening fuss is about. Whatever the reason, you're faced with the challenge of finding a dentist. Choosing a name from the Yellow Pages is one way to solve the problem—but probably not the best way. Asking for recommendations from trusted family members, friends and colleagues is a better tried-and-true method. But in a perfect world, wouldn't you want to ask the real experts? Our list of the top dentists in the Puget Sound area is the result of a survey where we did just that. We asked dentists to tell us which of their colleagues they would entrust with the dental care of their own family members. The results of this survey, our peer-recommended list of dentists, is another tool you can use in finding the perfect dentist for your family's dental needs. Now that's something to smile about.
